MIDD. 3 — U. V. M. 2

Sensational Ninth Inning Rally Brings Victory to the White and Blue. No One Down when Winning Runner Scores.

"Zeb" and "Tommy" Right on Hand with the "Willow". "Weaf" Nips Would-be Scorers at the Plate. "Jack" Pitches Great Game. Neither of U. V. M.'s Runs were Earned.

Holy smoke! What a ninth inning rally that was! With almost certain defeat staring them in the face our baseball warriors batted out a spectacular and hair raising victory in the ninth inning. "Speed" Denning, Vermont's classy freshman twirler, held Midd to one lonesome hit up to that fatal ninth, then his defence crumbled for a moment and it was all over. "Jack" fought hard and pitched his durndest for old Midd but the enemy gathered in one run in the first as a result of an error and another in the seventh when the ball, thrown in to catch Gallagher at the plate, struck a bat and bounded out of waiting Weafer's reach. U. V. M.'s infield was airtight and played brilliantly. And one after another the Midd boys died at first or on fly balls. "Wee Tommy" garnered a lusty single in the seventh and some of the U.M V. . supporters were mourning over the fact that Denning couldn't get his no-hit game. The eighth and U. V. M.'s half of the ninth passed without incident and then with the score 2 to 0 in Vermont's favor, the balloon went up. "Zeb" Alyward, batting for Loder, opened proceedings with a vicious single and a mighty yell went up from the Middlebury crowd. Denning passed Triggs and attempted to settle things with Lamere. "Joe" settled by driving a beautiful bunt along the third base line and was safe at first. Picture the situation! Bases crammed, nobody out and Tommy to bat. With the crowd yelling itself hoarse Tom hit sharply to right scoring, "Zeb" and Triggs, and Joe scored a moment later when Capt. Berry made a wild heave into the grandstand. And so the score stands, Midd 3—U. V. M. 2. Weafer caught a fine game and cut off two runs at the plate and great credit is due to all the team for the magnificent way in which they fought throughout the game. Ex-Governors Stewart and Mead were present and the latter threw out the ball opening the battle. About 800 spectators were in attendance. The game by innings as follows:

U. V. M.—Maiden singled and stole second. Berry's weight told on his speed and he died at first. Mayforth drew a base on balls. Fitzpatrick out on a fly to Robbie. Weafer threw wide to third and Maiden scored. Mayforth out at the plate through fine work by Weafer. One run.

Two Doubles in Seventh Inning Score Three Runs and Wrecks Pitcher Bissel's Chances.

"ZEB" ALLOWS ONLY TWO HITS AND HAMMERED THE BALL HIMSELF FOR TWO LUSTY DOUBLES, "WEAF" AND "JOE" ALSO HANDLE THE BAT VIGOROUSLY.

The Junior Week base ball season opened fittingly with a victory over New Hampshire State. The score was 4 to 2 and the game was hotly contested from start to finish. "Zeb" had the better of a pitching argument with Bissell of New Hampshire and won his own game with a hot double over second base in the seventh inning. "Weaf" caught a sterling game and wielded the wagon tongue with telling effect and Joe Lamere was a close second both in the batting and fielding departments. The students marched down street with the band and the mascot "Theophilus" and roused a good deal of attention. The cheering section worked efficiently under the direction of Cheer-leaders Dade and Monahan. The game by innings was as follows:

1ST INNING.

New Hampshire.—Fernald out by way of Bresnahan and Loder. W. Brackett fanned. Hobbs out at first, Jones to Loder. No runs.

Middlebury.—Fireworks opened right away. Triggs walked. Lamere bunted and was safe, while "Ed" moved on to second and to third on an error a moment later. "Bres." "died" at first and Lamere at third, but "Ed" scored meanwhile. Weafer rapped out a vicious double, but was out trying to stretch it into a triple. One run.

2ND INNING.

New Hampshire.—The Durham boys came back for blood. Welch singled and stole second. R. Brackett was safe at first. Hazen safe. Reardon safe. Welch scored. R. Brackett was caught off third. Cram fanned. Bissell out at first. One run.

Middlebury. — "Zeb" doubles. "Casey" and "Robbie" flied out and Haskins went out on a foul to the catcher. No runs.

3RD INNING.

New Hampshire.—Fernald whiffed. W. Brackett flied to Lamere. Miller out at first, Jones to Loder. No runs.

Middlebury. — Loder out on fly. Triggs gets another "walk handout." Lamere hits. "Wee Tommie" flied out. Weafer safe at first, but "Zeb" was the third out. No runs.

4TH INNING.

New Hampshire.—Welch out on a short grounder, "Zeb" to Loder. R. Brackett "died" at first. Hazen went out by way of a high fly to "Robbie." No runs.

Middlebury.—"Casey" walked, but was out trying to steal second. Robinson swung at three wide ones. Haskins went down on a fly to short. No runs.

EDITORIAL.

It has been a fine successful Junior Week. We have had two baseball victories, a fine Prom, and an interesting and exciting Junior play. Due cause for a big parade and a monster celebration, we grant that and are ready to help at any time. But it does seem rather disgraceful and underhand to round up proceedings as was done later on at the dorms. The college is doing its best for us and we should do our best for the College at other times than on the athletic field. Let's carry out our next big celebration in a little more orderly manner. We can lick U. V. M. without destroying the looks of the college buildings for a week. There isn't a better looking campus in New England and, if we don't lend two many hindering hands, nature and "Billy" can keep it so. Look around, fellows, think it over, and if you have any opposing sentiments let's hear them.

We wish very much to better our alumni column, but it is hard work to rake up the notes in Middlebury and our letters to the graduates on this subject have not been very successful thus far. But we will work on and hope to hear from them in the future. If each alumnus and alumna would take a little time and let us know a little of what has happened or is happening to him or her in the outside world, we of THE CAMPUS board would be very much obliged. We students are as glad to hear from the alumni as they are to hear of the successes of our growing college. Hoping to hear from you, one and all, we are, THE CAMPUS BOARD.

The Track team are at work once more getting in shape for the prospective meet with R, P. I., the last of May. The men are not all discouraged by their defeat at the hands of U. V. M., for they put up a fine fight and know it. The meet of last Thursday showed us a lot of good material for a fast team and with "Casey" in trim for the next contest our prospects should be bright indeed.

MIDD. LOSES TRACK MEET

U. V. M. 75—Midd. 50. Closer than Score Indicates.

The annual track meet between Middlebury College and University of Vermont was held on Thursday afternoon, May 7, at the Porter Field. Although Vermont was victorious, the meet was something to be satisfied with, inasmuch as the Middlebury boys, handicapped as they were by the illness of Jones, and the fact that Hutchinson, again, when Middlebury had banked much on him, was suffering from a bad knee; put up a splendid fight in every event.

The meet opened with the 100 yard dash. Owing to a poor start the race was run twice, Patterson of Vermont, Bolster of Vermont and Bresnahan coming in, in the order mentioned. The time was 10 2-5 seconds.

The quarter-mile was won again by Patterson, Hollister and Ferguson, the two latter from Middlebury, taking second and third place. The time was slow, 55 1-5 seconds.

The high hurdles was a pretty race, Lee of Middlebury, winning out over Hackett of Vermont in 19 3-5 seconds.

The 220 low hurdles were taken first by Bresnahan of Middlebury with Dade second, and Burrage of Vermont, third. Time, 30 seconds.

The high jump was one of the prettiest events of the day, Wilcox of Vermont and Kron of Middlebury were both excellent men and worked hard for first place. Capt. Kron won first place by topping the bar at 5 ft. 4 in. Lee of Middlebury won third place.

The 220 yard dash proved too much for the local boys, Vermont winning all three places in splendid shape. Bolster first, Patterson second, and Woodbury a close third; time, 25 3-5 seconds.

The two milers ran a hard race. Middlebury had been banking a lot on Lamere, who put up a splendid and nervy race. Hayden of Vermont outclassed anything Middlebury had in the race and although Lamere stuck to his heels until the last lap, Hayden pushed forward to the tape well in the lead. The race proved too streuuous for all but Hayden, Lamere, and Mitchell who finished a tardy third. Time, 11 minutes, 6 seconds.

The mile run was also won by Hayden, with Lamere second and Shippy of Vermont, third. Time, 5 miuutes, 1 second.

The pole vault was also an interesting event. Burrage of Vermont, a clean athlete, who showed up well, won first place at a height of 9 feet, with Lee second for Middlebury and Squires of Vermont third. Squires dropped out of the race before he had met his Waterloo in order to enter one of the field events.

The half mile was won by Wilbur of Vermont, Hollister of Middlebury second, Shippy of Vermont third. Time, 2 minutes, 18 seconds.

In the field events Squires of Vermont showed his usual ability. He had things his own way in the shot put, hammer throw and discuss, easily outclassing his nearest competitors. In the shot put, Squires put the weight 38.4 feet. Schoff of Burlington came second, Day of Middlebury third.

In the hammer throw, Squires hurled the hammer for a distance of 110.5 feet, Day finishing second, Burrage of Vermont third. Horsford, whom Middlebury had looked to for points in this event, didn't seem to be able to stay in the ring.

In the discuss throw, Squires again covered himself with glory, scaling the discuss 107.8 feet. Day was second and Burrage again a close third.

The last event of the afternoon was the broad jump. Middlebury won out on this event, Lee getting first place, Cintron of Vermont coming a close second, and Hutchinson of Middlebury following in third place. The distance covered was 20 feet, 6 inches.

The presence of Jones would have made a big difference in the total score, which figured up to 75-50.

Middlebury men are getting into shape for the R. P. I. meet which with Jones in the game ought to turn out well for Middlebury.

With the track in better shape and with prospects of a track coach, which may materialize before another season; we can promise U. V. M. an awful rub for first place next year.

Waubanakee Banquet

The Waubanakee senior society held its initation banquet at the Addison house on the evening of Wednesday, May 13th. A general good time was enjoyed by all. The nine initiates from 1915 were: Day, Jones, Haskins, Monahan, Ratti, Kimball, Kron, Rogers and Swezey.

A goodly number of Hash House league games will be played while the Varsity team is away on the Colgate R. P. I. trip. Keep your eye on the "Once Overs," "Hot Cross Runs," "Tangoites," "Castle Walkers," etc. They're fast teams one and all.

Captain Berry played a good game at first and showed a remarkable "whip" arm, We had been wondering for some time whether he could hit the grand stand from first base and when the right moment came along he proved conclusively that he could.

THE JUNIOR PLAY.

The ambition and ability of the Junior class was once more demonstrated Saturday evening, May 9, when they presented William Gillette's "Secret Service" in a manner that deserves much praise. The play was intensely interesting, the action swift and the performers threw themselves into their parts so wholeheartedly that you felt as if you were watching the real thing, not a mere stage presentation. The play opens during the siege of Richmond, the scene being laid at the Varney home. The atmosphere of war hangs all around. The gallant Captain Thorne, in reality one of the Union Secret Service in disguise, has come to "farewell" to Edith Varney, the young daughter of the family, with whom he has fallen in love. Edith's friend, Caroline Mitford, also arrives in time to find that her former fiance, Wilfred Varney, is just about to leave for the front. The plot now thickens when Captain Arrelsford of the Confederate Secret Service, comes to inform Mrs. Varney and her daughter that he believes Captain Thorne to be a Union spy, plotting against the very people whose hospitality he has enjoyed. Edith, to prove her lover innocent, devises a plan. Captain Thorne is to be brought face to face with a Union prisoner, said by Arrelsford to be his brother. The brothers fight to throw off the suspicion and in the scuffle Thorne's brother is killed. In the struggle the brother tells Thorne to use the telegraph for sending certain messages to he Union forces outside Richmond. In the final act, then, we find Thorne at the telegraph office engaged in the risky business of getting his message off without disturbance. But Captain Arrelsford soon appears and tries to prevent him. Thorne outwits him at every turn and finally, when all seems to point against him, Edith saves him by rushing in with a commission from President Jefferson Davis, allowing Thorne to be one of the War Department's telegraph officers. The last act brings us back to the Varney house, where all is doubt, confusion and despair. Wilfred has returned home with a slight wound, to be cuddled by his mother and Caroline. A battle is waging outside. Edith is in disgrace with the family for having helped Thorne, whom they have proved to be in the Union Secret Service. When everyone is out Thorne or Dumont comes stealthily into the room to see if he can find the body of his brother who had been killed a couple of hours before. Wilfred, coming in, catches him and the soldiers rush in and arrest him. Just as they are on the point of taking him out to shoot him, General Randolph appears and informs Captain Arrelsford and the rest of the crowd that Dumont never sent the message from the telegraph office at all and therefore is not to be sentenced to death, only to imprisonment. Before he is taken away, however, he has one last passionate word with Edith, and she promises to wait for him until he is released from prison, and he to love her forever. Very touching, indeed.

The characters are as follows:

Captain Thorne or Lewis Dumont, Union Secret Service, C. S. Jones
Henry Dumont, his brother, H. A. Haskins
Wilfred Varney, C. G. Kron
Captain Arrelsford, Confederate Secret Service, L. C. Monahan
General Randolph, Confederate Army, G. W. McLaughlin
Jonas, colored servant, R. W. Ray
Lieutenant Maxwell. Confederate Service, F. S. Hunt
Lieutenant Foray, A. L. Ratti
Lieutenant Allison, I. L. Cabot
Lieutenant Tyree, R. C. Cole
Confederate Privates, Hoyt Randall Swezey, Whitney, McCullough, Day Gardner, Jenkins.
Mrs. Varney. Southern lady, Miss Lusk
Miss Varney, her daughter, Miss Hulihan
Miss Mitford, Southern girl, Miss Fish
Miss Kittridge, Miss Feeney
Martha, colored servant, Miss Stone

Beside congratulations of the members Miss Throop is to be commended for so successfully coaching the entire performance. Mr. Sistare also deserves mention for furnishing a very realistic siege of Richmond with the drums. Scenery and costumes were especially good.

The music furnished by the college orchestra added much to the evening's entertainment.

Where! oh, where! "Weaf" did you get that "double shuffle" that caught Mayforth at the plate?

We had a fine example on Saturday of the fault of being "too previous." Several U. V. M. men left in the eighth inning promising their pitcher, Denning, that they would congratulate him at the train. Alas, how some fond hopes are doomed to disaster!

A Most Successful Prom. Given by 1915.

MUSIC, DECORATIONS, AND CROWD ALL THAT COULD BE ASKED FOR.

If a census could be taken of the college people as regards the best dance of the year, surely t ere would be a unanimous vote for the Junior Prom. Everything was so beautifully planned and executed and not a flaw could be found anywhere.

The decorations were most striking and deserved all the praise that was lavished upon them. Streamers of brown and gold, the class colors, hung from the center of the gymnasium and were caught on the sides, where they formed aisles and cosy corners which were much in demand.

The Prom. opened with a grand march which was led by Class President A. L. Kimball and Miss Amy Condit, who was a guest on the hill. At the close of the grand march the dance orders were distributed. These consisted of brown suede card cases for the ladies, and bill-books for the gentlemen. Dancing then commenced in good earnest and was broken only by the intermission when refreshments were served at small tables on the stage.

The last two dances were enlivened by the throwing of serpentine and confetti, while the indefatigable orchestra played their gayest airs. The patrons and patronesses were: Prof. and Mrs. C. I. Abbott, Prof. and Mrs. P. C. Voter, Prof. and Mrs. W. W. McGilton, Miss Suzanne Throop, Mr. Francis, Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Lambert, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Fletcher.

Much credit is due to the Prom. committee for the success of the evening. This committee consisted of I. L. Cabot, chairman, G. C. Hendry, H. J. Swezey, W. M. Sistare, Miss Annie Hulihan, Miss Ruth Kendall, Miss Ruth Norton.

Smoker.

On the evening of Wednesday, May 6th, the fellows held a big smoker in the Music Hall in preparation for forthcoming victories of Junior Week. Smokes and the new yells made up the first course on the evening's program. Then Professor Wetherell gave an interesting speech on the way in which the college is improving in athletics and he suggested further improvements for the future. Manager Esten, Coach Murch, and Manager Newman gave short talks on the outlook of the base ball and track teams respectively. Dr. Lambert next spoke and told of some of the experience which he had in superintending athletic work and offered to instruct the track team how they might best take care of themselves between events in which they were entered. The last speaker of the evening was President Thomas and he gave us one of his usual fine speeches. He told of his great work for the college and the need for the strong backing of everyone of the students and he roused great enthusiasm at the close in telling of the great gift of $10,000 from ex-Governor McCullough. After cheers for Gov. McCullough and for the several speakers of the evening this successful smoker broke up. A worthy forerunner of a most successful Junior Week.

A little girl was reading a composition of her own on "Grant's Work in the Civil War." She got on swimmingly until she reached Lee's surrender at Appomatox Court House. Then she told how Lee wore his sword and was handsomely attired in full uniform; "While Grant," she announced, "had on nothlng but an old ragged union suit."

For the groom to cuss the bride?"

(Woman's Home Companion.)

"Bang went the rifles at the manoeuvres.

"Oo-oo!" screamed the pretty girl—a nice, decorous, surprised little scream. She stepped backward into the surprised arms of a young man. "Oh," said she blushing, "I was frightened by the rifles, I beg your pardon." "Not at all," said the young man. "Let's go over and watch the artillery."

"Oh, dear!" she sighed, "I simply can't adjust my curriculum.

"It-it doesn't show any," he reassured her blushing, and then they both talked rapidly about the decorations. (Yale Record.)

EDITORIAL.

On Wednesday evening, the night preceeding Junior Week festivities, a Smoker was held at the Music Hall. In spite of the fact that announcement of the Smoker had been constantly made during the preceeding week, in spite of the fact that it was the last game before the big track meet and our two biggest games of the season, in spite or the fact that Dr. Thomas, Dr. Lambert, Professor Wetherell, Coach Murch and others were to speak, and the new cheers rehearsed, but a small gathering were present. It's not as a comment that we make this statement, not as a confession of a deplorable lack of college spirit on the part of some, but to call attention of these persons who were absent upon such an occasion that they are not fulfilling their obligations to Middlebury College, to tell them outright and candidly that they are in no way responsible for the victories of Friday and Saturday, and to tell those men, of the freshman class particularly who, are not so hopelessly entangled in the meshes of love, or infatuated by moving pictures, that they place us in secondary consideration their duties toward their college and college activities, that it is a duty to attend such functions, yes, a privilege as well as a duty and the opportunity should never be allowed to pass unheeded again.

If you don't believe in smoking you don't have to smoke, and I might add here, if you do believe in it, you don't have to take any more cigarettes than you can conveniently smoke that night, but whatever you do don't miss again an opportunity such as that Smoker of last Wednesday, to help your college teams. It turned out upon that occassion, that several mighty fine talks were given, particularly that of Dr. Thomas, which none who heard it would have missed, and the only feature to be regretted was the absence of so many.

"HASH HOUSE LEAGUE" GAME.

On Saturday morning the "Hash House Team" crossed bats with a picked team. On account of the Junior Prom the society boys of the "Castle-Walker" did not put in an appearance, therefore it was necessary to choose new opponents. It was the swiftest game of the season. The "Pick-Ups" won by a score of 15 to 3. Ben Fisher acted as umpire.

The name of Ginevra P. Harlow, Assistant Editor-in-Chief of the Kaleidoscope, was omitted from the list of editors through some error. Miss Harlow had complete charge of those sections representing the Women's College and did very creditable work in that publication.

The 1915 Kaleidoscope has appeared. With trembling hands and beating hearts we have gazed over its pages, ever hoping, ever fearing. The "knocks" have been given, the jokes sprung, we have seen our names in print and pictures have been recorded for future reference. Nothing remains to be done but criticise the work of our board of editors. They have lost precious hours of sleep over it, they have spurred on work-worn brains and tired fingers to get it out on time, they have fasted and have fought. Now cringing and eagerly as a dog which has brought home the neighbor's cat and knows not what to expect, praise or blame, they await the opinion of the college. Our criteria in the judging of their work must be the books which have preceeded theirs, and in justice and with sincerity we take this opportunity to say, "Arise good and faithful servants, you have done well thy work, go thy way in peace." For the new Kaleidoscope is a good one, and we are glad to be able to say so.

"To Him that Hath."

To serve the ladies, we confess
Is sure a fine vocation;
But carry it too far, and "gad,"
It is an aggravation.

Co-education hath its charms—
Blest be each buxom dame—
But on the bleachers let them sit,
And come and "root" the game.

R. E. B.

The team starts for Colgate on Thursdsy, May 14th, and will play there on the following day. On the 16th comes the game with R. P. I. at Troy. With our fine record these games ought to be "corkers" from start to finish. Colgate defeated us last year by a score of 4 to 1 but we won the year before by 5 to 1 and it is a good time to repeat and our team is a good efficient one, ready to do its best for old Middlebury.

The engagement of Eunice Cady '16 to Roy Meeker, Pittsfield, Mass., was announced at a party in the Sigma Kappa rooms Monday evening.

MUSIC hath charms—add a pipeful of Velvet and you are a whole orchestra. Such is the pleasure of good tobacco. Velvet, the tenderest leaf—aged in the old warehouse for two years—a slow, sombre, time-process of mellowing—in which all harshness is lost—the flavor toned, sweetened, made exquisitely smooth. A smoke without bite—music without discord! Velvet is known to be the most carefully matured smoking tobacco—only time can produce its delights—only patience insures its pleasures. All yours!

COLLEGE NOTES.

Ted Rourke '16 is planning a visit to Middlebury.

Benjamin Lamere has been the guest of Joel Lamere '16.

G. L. Bishop jr., '17 left for his home in Boston on May 11th, ex-'14. Elmer R. West spent Junior Week at the D. S. lodge.

Irving L. Cabot entertained his mother in Middlebury last week.

Alvin Parker has been entertaining his brother on the Hill this week.

Miss Brownell of Burlington was a Junior Week guest at Middlebury.

John Voss '14 spent last week in New York city where he was called on business.

Milton Hard has been entertaining R. S. Richards of Colby academy, a prospective student.

T. Kenneth Penniman has resumed studies at the college after a long absence, due to illness.

T. K. Penniman has returned to college after his long illness and is busy catching up his "back work."

Mr. D. L. Colvin gave an interesting lecture on the "Liquor Problem" in the Chapel at 7:30 P. M. on May 12th.

Don't forget to pay Danolds '17 your tennis dues before playing. Remember it costs something for work on the courts.

Junior Week brought out several new additions to the Fussers club. Good ones too we should judge from all appearances.

Invitations are out for a dancing party to be given in McCullough gymnasium by the Alpha Chi sorority on Saturday evening, May 23rd.

The students attended "Quo Vadis" on Monday, May 11th, in full force. The matinee performance drew a goodly crowd and everyone was pleased with the play.

The Young Men's Christian Association held its 43rd State Convention at Woodstock on May 12th and 13th. Elbert S. Brigham '03 was one of the speakers of the occasion.

The Apollo club held a meeting at 4:00 P. M. on Wednesday, May 13th, in the Latin room. Professor White spoke on the subject of "The Land of Pericles in 1914", and illustrated the lecture with original photographs.

Tennis season has opened and several games have been played thus far. The men are now working on the Pearsons courts. We suggest a mixed doubles contest for the championship of the four classes. How about it, girls?

D. Leigh Colvin lectured under the auspices of the Middlebury college Temperance league on the evening of May 12th. Secretary Paulsen is in hopes of getting another lecturer to Middlebury before commencement.

The only sound, outside of a little yelling, in that ninth inning was that of Middlebury wagon tongues as they lit on Denning's curves. It was a pleasant sound and a pleasing accompaniment. Midd's "fight in the last ditch" spirit was most apparent on Saturday and the truth of Professor Harrington's adage that "a game is never won or lost until the last man is out in the last half of the ninth" has sunken in more deeply than ever. Now for Colgate.

Alumni Athletic Association.

In 1913 the Middlebury College Athletic Association was organized. That year seventy-five members joined the association, paying in a total of three hundred and fifty-two dollars in dues. Out of its funds, the association applied two hundred and fifty dollars in the Fall of 1913 toward the salary of the football coach. On the first of March, 1914, statements were sent to the members advising them that their dues were payable and a circular sent to all the alumni urging that the membership be very materially increased. This appeal has met with very little response, and, moreover, the members are delinquent in paying their dues for the current year. The officers of the association desire to make an appeal to all readers of the Campus, who are members, to pay their dues, if they have not already done so, or, if they are not members, to join the association. There is no way that the Alumni can more effectively advance the interests of the college than by aiding the students to get proper instruction along athletic lines. With the increased membership in the college, there is plenty of good material from which to build first class athletic teams and the amount of advertising, which costs nothing, that a good baseball or football team will give to the college, could not be purchased for any sum of money. Young men the country over read the baseball and football news in the newspapers and when the baseball or football team of any college is successful, it makes more of an impression of them than all the pamphlets in the world expatiating on the quality of the scholarship at such an institution. It may be a sad commentary to have to admit this, but, nevertheless, there can be no doubt that it is a fact. There is a good deal of talk about the high cost of living constantly before us these days, but there is no doubt that coaches are more expensive than they used to be, particularly if one is secured who is able to do effective work. With the co-operation of enough of the alumni through this association, the College Athletic Association can be assisted to a sufficient extent to insure first class coaching and we make this appeal and trust that you will see fit to respond at once. All checks for membership should be sent to Percival Wilds, Secretary-Treasurer, 2 Rector Street, New York City.

Parade.

The fellows celebrated their victory over U. V. M. in a snake dance and parade. Immediately after the game they lined up behind the band and marched down town where they snake danced through the street and around the square, stopping every now and then to let out overflowing exuberance in cheers and songs. "Prex," Governor Stewart and Professor Cunningham gave short speeches and the marchers broke up to meet after the Junior Play. This time it was a full dress affair or, in other words, a "night shirt" parade. The paraders collected barrels, boxes, and stray boards and in other ways helped the improvement society of Middlebury. With this they built an immense funeral pyre aud, kindling the heap, danced, yelled, and sang till nothing but the ashes remained. A fitting celebration for a great game.

Examination schedule is posted on the bulletin board. Conflicts should be reported at once.

Senior Canes.

The senior canes are now an everyday sight on the campus and it looks as if 1914 has started a good custom for future seniors. Caps and gowns will be worn commencement week. The girls turned out with parasols and monocles but this rage was short lived and they are now staid and reverend once more in cap and gown. To tell the truth monocles are rather hard to manage if one does not understand their eccentricities.

Musings on Poetic Inability.

Since R. E. B.'s been writing verses,
Since he got his poet's license.
Ever since he had that trouble
That he only talks in rhythm,
I've been feeling sad and gloomy
Gloomy I've been feeling always,
Just as if I'd like to swat him
Bang him, tear him, punch and knock him,
Throw him down the stairs and beat him.
And I've wandered in the forest,
In the dark and gloomy forest,
With the west wind I have whispered,
Whispered to it all my troubles.
For I too have tried to write 'em,
Verses with a flowing rhythm,
Songs that tell of sport and venture,
Poems such as he has written
But I find myself unable
As I sit alone and ponder
Out here in the gloomy forest.
Yes I find myself unable
Beauteous verse to rightly scribble.
Therefore he has roused my ire
With the beauty of his lyrics.
